Religious services conducted by Rev. J. P. Pell.

Minutes read and approved.

The Committee on Missions presented their report (see No. 20), which was adopted.

The Bishop presented the Committees of Examination (see page 593).

The following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the thanks of this Conference are hereby most cordially tendered to the citizens of the city of Indianapolis who have so kindly entertained the members of Conference during its present session; and to the pastors of the Churches who have invited us to their pulpits on the Sabbath; and to the secretaries of Conference for the prompt and able discharge of their arduous duties.

The following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That we hereby express our high appreciation of the visit of Reverend Bishop E. S. Janes, D. D., to this Conference, and of the kind, gentle and fatherly manner of his presiding; and we are solicitous that the Heavenly Father shall preserve his valuable life for many years to the church; and that Bishop Janes will always be heartily welcomed as President of our Conference sessions, or in any other capacity in which he may come among us.

The following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, that a vote of thanks be tendered to the ladies of Roberts Park Church for the splendid manner in which they entertained the conference and visitors at their reception in the church.

There being no further business, the minutes were read and approved.

A delightful sacramental service was then held, at which a large number of persons communed.

Following this, the Bishop addressed the conference and read the appointments.

Benediction was pronounced by Rev. A. Wood, D. D.

Thus closed the twenty-fourth annual session of the South-East Indiana Conference, after a delightful and harmonious session of six days. May God's blessing be upon these ministers of the gospel during another year.

EDMUND S. JANES,
Presiding Bishop.

GEORGE L. CURTISS,
Secretary of South-Eastern Indiana Conference.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION.

Recognizing the fact, that the happiness and prosperity of a people depend very largely upon their moral and intellectual training and development, we are more than ever convinced, that it is the duty of the church to aid in every legitimate and proper manner, in the general diffusion of knowledge.

And while our own State, in common with others, has made provision for primary education at public expense, it is the duty of Christians to encourage this grand work of lifting up and elevating the masses, that otherwise would remain in ignorance.

But while we would encourage the education of the children in the primary schools, under the control and supervision of the State, we are firmly and unalterably opposed to the demand, so persistently made, that the bible be excluded from the public schools. At the same time we are most earnestly opposed to any proposition to divide, among the various religious organizations of the country, the funds raised for public education; believing that thereby the efficiency of such schools would be greatly impaired.

But while it is the duty of the church thus to aid in the dissemination of primary education, it is also her imperative duty to make ample provision for the higher education of those of riper years. And such education, controled by the church, should be eminently Christian in its character.

In order that this work may be effectually accomplished, it is the duty of the church to give our literary institutions such liberal endowment as will afford ample facilities for this great work.

As Protestants and Methodists we desire here to record our earnest protest, against sending Protestant children to receive mental culture and religious training in Roman Catholic schools, believing that such patronage on the part of our people is inconsistent and unwise.

MOORE'S HILL COLLEGE.

The nineteenth year of this institution closed with the commencement exercises of last June. The number of students in actual attendance during the year was one hundred and forty-one.

Four young gentlemen and two young ladies graduated last commencement; of these two of the young gentlemen were classical graduates, the other graduates were in the scientific course.

The college year was one of unusual good order among the students, no case having arisen during the whole year, that required discipline before the faculty. During the first term Professor Maxwell was sick, but his place was supplied by M. A. Hester, one of the students. With this exception the faculty were constantly at their several posts, working faithfully and harmoniously.

The almost unprecedented rains and floods of the past season, caused some of the friends of the college to apprehend that the attendance this year would be greatly reduced, but we are happy to learn that these apprehensions are not likely to be realized. The new year opened August 30, and at the close of the second week the number enrolled was equal to the number enrolled at the same time last year, and students are still entering.

Moore's Hill College, though embarrassed, by the want of a sufficient income, is contributing its share toward the giving a Christian education to those who are to fill the positions of ministers and ministers' wives, of teachers and of other professions and walks in life. Its course of study is equal to that of other western colleges, and its professors work harder, perhaps, because compelled to do so, than most of their contemporaries in the educational field. Their salaries are shamefully small, and yet the income of the institution is too limited to pay even these small salaries, and the necessary contingent expenses.

To remedy this evil, efforts were made during commencement week of 1874, and at last commencement, to liquidate the floating debt, and to increase the existing endowment fund of about eight thousand dollars to twenty thousand dollars.

These efforts were successful beyond what even the friends of the institution dared to hope. Pledges covering the whole indebtedness were made to be collectible, when the twenty thousand dollars of endowment should be secured, if done in five years, and the endowment fund was increased to sixteen thousand eight hundred and sixty-six dollars and forty-seven cents.

This fund consists of the following items:

Amount collected and loaned	$9,536.47
Old subscription considered good	1,200.00
New subscription considered good	6,130.00
	$16,866.47

The sum of three thousand one hundred and thirty-three dollars and fifty-three cents is wanted to make the twenty thousand dollars. But how shall this be obtained? Without this amount the pledges of last year are all void, for they were all conditional, and the securing of this twenty thousand dollars endowment fund. With it the continued existence of the college is assured.

The faculty remains as it was last year; Reverend F. A. Hester, D. D. President; Reverend J. P. D. John, A. M., professor of mathematics; Mrs. H. P. Adams, professor of natural sciences; Reverend J. A. Maxwell, A. M., professor of ancient languages; Mrs. O. P. John, teacher of instrumental and vocal music.

We recommend that the Bishop be requested to appoint Reverend F. A. Hester, D. D., President of Moore's Hill College, and Reverend J. P. D. John, and Reverend J. A. Maxwell, professors. We also recommend that six trustees be elected to fill the vacancies occasioned by the expiration of the terms of Reverend E. G. Wood, D. D., Reverend S. Tincher, D. D., John K. Thompson, Hanson D. Moore, James S. Stevens and Henry B. Gault, and that Reverends L. G. Adkinson, H. Harris, and R. D. Black be appointed visitors.

ASBURY UNIVERSITY.

We are happy to report this old and well-established institution as in a most flourishing condition. The college year just closed has been one of unprecedented prosperity—not a solitary case of discipline having been recorded, and nothing having occurred to mar the workings of the university.

The president and professors have worked hard, vieing pleasantly with each other in the management of their several departments. The aggregate attendance during the year was four hundred and fifty, one hundred of which were young ladies. The graduating class numbered thirty-five, a young lady—Miss Flora Secrest Turman—carrying off the honors. Dr. Andrus has been untiring and ceaseless in his labors as president, and has had the satisfaction of witnessing a constantly-increasing attendance of students during his term of service, as also of graduating the largest classes that have ever gone forth from the institution. We regret to have it to say that the new college edifice is still unfinished, though rooms for all the college departments proper, and two literary halls, are finished and occupied. The old college building has been fitted up for the preparatory school, which is under the direction of Mr. J. B. DeMotte, as principal, assisted by Mr. T. J. Bassett and Mr. Philip S. Baker, all of whom are excellent scholars and successful teachers. You will discover, by referring to the late catalogue, that the courses of instruction have been greatly enlarged and improved, thus offering educational facilities equal to those of any institution in the whole country. The only thing now lacking in the internal workings of the university is the fulfilling by the board of trustees of their repeated promise of introducing lady professors into the faculty of instruction. Co-education and co-instruction should go hand in hand.

We record with pleasure the fact that the Hon. A. C. Downey has furnished the means for finishing, in splendid style and taste, the hall to be occupied as the department of belles letters and history. Let other good brethren catch the spirit and go and do likewise.

At the late annual session of the joint board of visitors a call was made upon the four Indiana conferences for forty thousand dollars, to be used in finishing the new college building and refitting the old. We hope that this conference will make a liberal response to this call. We also feel that the approaching national centennial ought to be made memorable on account of our liberal giving to the Lord and to His cause. We recommend as conference visitors Rev. R. F. Brewington and Dr. J. H. Bayliss. We recommend that the preparatory department of Asbury University be made self-sustaining, by the payment of tuition fees, if at all consistent with the conditions of the scholarships, and that the endowment fund be applied exclusively to the proper collegiate departments.

We recommend the adoption by conference of the following preamble and resolutions:

WHEREAS, Indiana Asbury University and Moore's Hill College both greatly need large additions to their funds, one for building purposes, and both for an increase of their endowments and of their apparatus; and

WHEREAS, Next year is the centennial of our national independence, when our people will gladly give expression of their gratitude to God for His goodness to us as a nation by contributing to the cause of Christian education; therefore

Resolved, That a committee consisting of three ministers and three laymen be appointed to co-operate with the pastors in carrying out the plan of the discipline for utilizing the centenary of the nation in advancing the educational interests of the church.

Resolved, That the contributors shall have the privilege of designating to which of the institutions their gifts shall be appropriated; but when no designation is made the funds be divided equally between Asbury and Moore's Hill.

GARRETT BIBLICAL INSTITUTE.

This institution, as we learn from the report of Rev. G. P. Jenkins, conference visitor, is in a very prosperous condition.

Under the wise and careful management of able and careful trustees, its financial condition is good.

Its board of instructors is able, active and efficient. This institution, with its instructors, library, and other helps, affords peculiar advantages to those seeking a theological education, and we heartily commend it to those who may desire the advantages of such an institution.

We recommend the appointment of Rev. Charles Tinsley and Rev. G. P. Jenkins as conference visitors.

PUBLICATION OF CONFERENCE MINUTES.

The Committee on Publication of Conference Minutes present their report:

The minutes for 1874 were published at the Book Concern, at Cincinnati, at a cost of three hundred and thirty-seven dollars and sixty-two cents. Receipts for minutes sold to members, two hundred and five dollars and forty-six cents; from advertisements, thirty-six dollars; from missionary treasury, one hundred dollars; total, three hundred and forty-one dollars and forty-six cents, leaving a surplus of six dollars and twenty-six cents, which we place to the credit of account for 1875. The failure of preachers to pay for their minutes promptly embarrasses the secretaries.

Resolved, That the conference roll be called, to ascertain the number of copies of the minutes each member is willing to take, which, taken in the aggregate, shall be the number of minutes published.

Resolved, That in case any brother, being notified by the secretary that his minutes are sent to him, does not receive them at the express or post-office within three weeks, he shall by letter notify the secretary; otherwise he shall be held responsible for them.

Resolved, That the members of the conference be required to pay for the minutes to the secretary in person, or by post-office order or registered letter, on or before the first day af December, 1875, and in case they do not pay before January 1st, 1876, there shall be added ten per cent. to the amount due.

FREEDMEN'S AID SOCIETY.

The Freedmen's Aid Society is now devoting all its energies in the education and training of preachers and teachers among the colored people of the South, for their own home work, and aims through these means at the general education and salvation of the people. This is a herculean task, and one well calculated to discourage less devoted and determined men.

Manifold, however, as are the difficulties which stand in the way of the full accomplishment of all that this society desires, none are so embarrassing as the want of funds. Vast sections of the South are yet unreached. Thousands of poor, degraded people are without a school or church. The people are perishing for the lack of knowledge. The "Macedonian cry" comes up from every quarter, but because of the limited amount of money placed at the disposal of the society, it is necessarily circumscribed in its operations. This ought not to be. The fate of this long oppressed people—their eternal weal or woe—depends largely upon our effort, as a church, in their behalf. No appeal to Methodism is more imperative; no field promises a richer harvest.

Let us meet it like men, and while we slacken not our efforts, and withhold not our millions for the foreign field, let us not forget the needy and worthy poor at our own door, but faithfully present the cause to our people during the coming conference year, and in our collections aim to come fully up to the fifteen hundred dollars apportioned to our conference for this object. REPORT OF PROCEEDINGS OF LAY CONFERENCE.

Bishop E. S. Janes, Presiding, and Members of the South-Eastern Indiana Conference:

DEAR FATHER AND BRETHREN:—At a meeting of an electoral conference of laymen, representing the quarterly conferences within the bounds of the South-Eastern Indiana Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church of the United States of America, assembled pursuant to the requirements of the discipline of said church, in the city of Indianapolis, on the 17th day of September, A. D. 1875, that being the third day of the annual session of said conference, preceding the meeting of the General Conference, the following proceedings, among others, were had:

Hon. Will Cumback was called to the chair, and John W. Ray appointed Secretary.

Delegates elected to represent the lay conference of the South-Eastern Indiana Conference, in the next General Conference, were Hon. Will Cumback, of Greensburg, and Hon. Judge Alexander C. Downey, of Rising Sun.

Alternate delegates elected were John W. Ray, of Indianapolis, and Hon. Jonathan H. Friedley, of Wooster.

The following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the presiding eldership should still be continued, but that it should be made more efficient and less burdensome to the church than it now is. That to effect this we recommend that the districts shall be composed of not less than twenty-four appointments, and that meetings be held in each appointment semi-annually, instead of quarterly. That the Sabbath-school should have a prominent position in all such meetings, and that one day, at least, should be devoted to such interests.

The following resolution was also adopted:

Resolved, That our delegates to the next General Conference are hereby instructed to use their influence and votes against any change in the manner of appointing presiding elders.

We further report that the Secretary of said conference was directed so procure a book in which to record the proceedings of the Lay Conference, and deposit the same with the secretary of your conference.

The Chairman, Will Cumback, being compelled to leave the city, Eli F. Ritter was called to the chair.

Respectfully submitted,

ELI F. RITTER, Chairman.

JOHN W. RAY, Secretary.

TRACT SOCIETY.

The Tract Society has for its object the distribution of religious truth, in cheap form, among the masses. By this means it has, under the blessing of God, accomplished an incalculable amount of good. The multitudes have been reached, and vast numbers from all ranks have been saved. We recommend that the pastors and tract committees of our churches more largely aid in the circulation of tracts than they have in the past.

A. WILKINSON, Chairman,

POPULAR AMUSEMENTS.

The Committee on Popular Amusements submits the following report:

WHEREAS, There is an increasing demand among our young people, especially, for amusements, being the result of an increase in manufactures and a decrease in physical labor, giving more time for amusements, therefore,

Resolved, That we heartily approve the action of the last General Conference upon this subject, and condemn horse racing, card playing, dancing and attending theaters, and all other amusements that would compromise or weaken our christian character and influence. B. W. COOPER,

Chairman of Committee.

CHURCH EXTENSION.

The Committee on Church Extension beg leave to report that they have had under consideration such papers as have been furnished them on the subject of Church Insurance, and from them present the following facts:

Property to the value of two hundred and fifty-three thousand four hundred and fifty dollars has been reported to the committee, one hundred and eight thousand one hundred and fifty dollars of which is without insurance, and on one hundred and fifty-five thousand three hundred dollars there are policies of insurance, aggregating the sum of forty-six thousand five hundred dollars. These figures represent in the aggregate fifty-nine church edifices and ten parsonages. The entire insurance reported is on five church buildings and one parsonage.

We have no documents from the present Board of Church Extension, but presume that it is doing its usual work.

The cause of Church Extension is one that commends itself to every lover of the Savior, and is worthy the cordial support of the church. Its importance can scarcely be overstated, when we consider the moral power of a house of worship in a community, especially in laying the foundations of society, and in securing permanency to religious teachings and ordinances among the people. We therefore recommend the following resolutions for your adoption:

Resolved, That we will endeavor, as pastors, to co-operate with the parent Board of Church Extension in carrying forward all its work.

Resolved, That we will present the claims of Church Extension in all our congregations and secure, if possible, the amounts assessed to our several charges for the prosecution of this work. J. B. LATHROP, TEMPERANCE.

WHEREAS, Inebriation is, in its immediate effects and remote consequences, the most enormous phase of wickedness that legislation, philantrophy and religion has to grapple with; unfitting public functionaries for the high trusts confided to them by a hopeful people; corrupting electors in the exercise of the elective franchise, thereby exposing the boon of a free ballot to bitter sarcasm, and hence imperrilling our republican institutions and national liberty; besides, bringing calamities into the more private circles of social life, and upon the individual victims, too appalling to be described. And.

WHEREAS, The sordid traffic in intoxicating beverages is the baneful source of the greater portion of the crime, poverty and suffering we punish, support and pity, and being firmly persuaded that this deplorable traffic, with its sickening detail of results, can not be suppressed by measures less stringent than those enacted for dealing with crimes of lesser magnitude, such as theft, arson and burglary, and accepting an accredited definition of civil law as a "Rule of conduct prescribed by the supreme power of the State, commanding what is right and prohibiting what is wrong," and having deliberately determined the traffic in intoxicating beverages to be an unmitigated wrong; therefore,

Resolved, That we condemn as utterly unworthy of an enlightened civilization the policy of granting license to practice wickedness under the species plea of raising a revenue to educate our children, while at the same time we pay a hundredfold the amount in taxes to support liquor venders, to demoralize them, and like so many human vultures, to prey upon the vitals of society.

Resolved, That we are more than ever convinced of the absolute need of total prohibition as the condition of the removal of the evils of intemperance, and we here pledge our utmost endeavors to carry forward so wise and salutary a policy, and to this end we pledge our sympathy and Christian co-operation with the several unions, orders and organizations that are working for this result.

Resolved, That we congratulate the earnest temperance workers upon the success that has crowned their efforts to prevent the legal sale of spirituous liquors in the building of the Industrial Exposition, and we joyfully note the fact that the "Brewers' Association" felt the sting of this manifestation of public sentiment to such an extent that they declined to mar the procession of last week with the intended representation of their traffic.

Resolved, That while the great body of voters have accepted a cowardly patience as a measure of prudence, thereby causing criminal delay in bold action, we rejoice that the women of the nation are rising to the rescue; that we cordially greet these "fellow-helpers" in the work of reform, and will render them all practicable aid in circulating and forwarding their "Memorial to the National Congress," praying for Christian legislation.

SABBATH-SCHOOL WORK.

WHEREAS, We regard the Sabbath-School as an integral part of the church and a most efficient agency for imparting Bible instruction.

WHEREAS, We deplore the fact that in many of our charges the management of the Sabbath-School is left entirely to the young and inexperienced, while those of riper years and enlarged experience withhold both their attendance and encouragement.

WHEREAS, The collections to the Sunday-School Union have never reached the amount that should be raised by this conference, and we deplore the fact that many of the charges have failed to send up their annual collections to this cause this year, causing a decrease in the collections from last year of thirty-three dollars and fifty-one cents; therefore,

Resolved, That as Christian ministers we will do all in our power to enlist the sympathy and co-operation of all our church members in the Sabbath-School work.

Resolved, That in order to more perfectly qualify teachers for the Sabbath-School work, we will use our efforts to organize and sustain normal classes in all our schools.

Resolved, That we will present the claims of the Sunday-School Union in all our charges, and endeavor to increase the amount of our collections for this cause during the coming year.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON WOMEN'S FOREIGN MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

WHEREAS, The General Conference has accepted the Women's Foreign Missionary Society as one of the regular benevolent institutions of the church; and we, as pastors and officers of the church, are pledged to do all in our power to further its interests, and we recognize in it a more efficient agency for stirring the women at home to care for our foreign work, and also by sending out young women as missionaries to evangelize the women of the heathen lands. Therefore

Resolved, That we pledge our hearty co-operation in presenting this cause to our congregations, and in organizing auxiliaries in all our charges.

Resolved, That we will help the branch officers organize a district association of this society in each presiding elder's district, if practicable.

Resolved, That in presenting the claims of our church periodicals we will make special mention of the Heathen Woman's Friend.

BIBLE REPORT.

WHEREAS, The Bible is the Book of God, a revelation of the will of the Creator to the creature; and whereas, we regard its holy teachings not only essential to man's spiritual growth but also to the development of his moral and intellectual nature; and whereas, no one denomination of Christians is sufficiently distributed among the nations of earth, or is sufficiently wealthy to undertake the task of translating and supplying these holy scriptures to the family of man, therefore

Resolved, That we favor the objects and aims of the American Bible Society, in combining Christian effort in this work.

Resolved, That we have listened with interest to the statements of the Rev. H. H. Benson, general agent of the State of Indiana, upon the success of the work among us.

Resolved, That we will co-operate with the agents of the American Bible Society in supplying the destitute with the word of life, in our midst, and raising funds for the society.

Resolved, That where no canvas is made we recommend that our pastors take collections for this society, and that the amounts be reported to this conference, whether taken by agent or pastor, and published in our minutes.

No. 15.

REV. JAMES H. STALLARD

Was born in Moscow, Rush county, Indiana, November 28th, 1837. Removed with his parents, at two years old, to Morristown, Shelby county, Indiana, and at nineteen went with them to Shelbyville. He joined the Methodist Episcopal Church under the labors of the Rev. D. Holms, in 1853, and made a profession of religion, but was not clear in his religious experience until the Acton camp-meeting of 1859. Here he received so clear an evidence of his acceptance with God that he never afterwards doubted.

Brother Stallard was admitted on trial in the South-Eastern Indiana Conference in 1859, and appointed to Milton circuit as assistant preacher. In 1860 his appointment was Boston circuit, and in 1861 St. Omer circuit. Here, on account of ill health and deafness, he was advised by his presiding elder, the Rev. E. G. Wood, to give up the work in the middle of the year. This he did, and then returned to Shelbyville. Here he remained until September, 1871, when he again entered the work under the elder, and was assigned to Trafalgar circuit. At the conference of 1872 this circuit was divided, and Brother Stallard, being exceeding popular on the Nashville end, was appointed to that work. In 1873 his appointment was Castleton circuit, where he had a good year; was greatly beloved by the people, but on account of poor health and extreme difficulties in hearing, he was again compelled to retire. He returned to Nashville, county-seat of Brown county, and began the practice of medicine, and, at the same time, by a special arrangement, was to supply the Methodist pulpit of that town. His business increased rapidly, and as a result of over-work he was prostrated by disease in the last days of 1874, and died January 13, 1875.

He was united in marriage to Miss Mary E. Holding, August 21, 1860. To them were born five children, two of whom have preceded the father to the Home of the Redeemed.

Brother Stallard was a dutiful son, a loving and tender husband and father, a good student, a vigorous writer and speaker, a man of great originality of thought and terseness of expression, and was richly endowed with those elements of mind and heart which insure success, and had it not been for his affections would doubtless have ranked among the first young men of the church. He leaves a father, mother, three children and one brother, and a host of warm friends. He lived well and doubtless died well.

MARY ELIZA HOLDING

WAS born in Harrison county, Kentucky, October 18, 1847; joined the Methodist Episcopal Church in Shelbyville, Indiana, under the pastoral labors of Rev. William Montgomery; was married to Rev. J. H. Stallard, August 21, 1860, and died May 31, 1875.

For several years she bore the burdens with her husband of the itinerant life, in which relation she bore her part nobly, making many friends in every community in which they labored. As a wife, she was faithful and devoted. As a mother, kind, painstaking and indulgent. As a member of the church, she was consistent and earnest, seldom neglecting any of the appointed means of grace.

Her last illness was short and severe, being insensible most of the time, so that she left no dying testimony, but to serve God under trials and difficulties, as was her's, is better than a thousand death-bed testimonials.

She leaves three orphan children to the care of aged grandparents, the benevolence of a christian public, the church, and to the watchcare of Him who has promised to be "a father to the fatherless and a husband to the widow."

Let those who loved Brother and Sister Stallard not forget their orphan children.

ANN HURLBUT

WAS born in Jassamine county, Ky., 1797. In early life her parents removed to Indiana, where in 1822 she was married to Lewis Hurlbut. Though at this time they were not members of the church, yet the first evening after their marriage the family altar was erected, from which time they continued to hold family devotions, and in a few weeks they both united with the Methodist Episcopal church. Her husband having joined the Indiana Conference in 1834, she was thrown into that most responsible of positions in life, that of the wife of an itinerant Methodist preacher.

Through all the hardships connected with the pioneer work of the church, she cheerfully and faithfully filled her position, until her husband, by reason of age, was granted a superannuated relation.

As a Christian, mother Hurlbut was consistent and exemplary. A firm and consistent religious principle characterized her entire life. She so mingled religion with her family duties, that the members of her household talked with her about religion, about prayer, and praising God, as they would about the domestic affairs. In her social relations, and in her cheerfulness and joviality, there was that religious dignity that restrained all inclinations upon the part of her associates of any thing like sinful conversation. Her presence was an evidence of the presence of the Savior. The world might doubt the reality of religion, but none could doubt mother Hurlbut's sincerity:

"The blessings of her quiet life
Fell on us like the dew,
And good thoughts, where her footsteps pressed,
Like fairy blossoms grew."

Another manifestation of her religious principle was her devotion to the church. To her it was the representative of the Savior. Her great concern seemed to be for the prosperity of Zion. "How is our church prospering?" was an almost universal question to her pastor whenever she met him. She seemed to breathe the prayer, "O that the Lord would build up Zion." Her favorite song was, "I love thy Church, O God!" She was not content with the mere knowledge of pardoned sin. She desired to know the full power of redeeming love. Therefore she sought and found the blessing of entire sanctification. The following extract from a long letter, written by her thirty-six years before her death, tells her experience. The letter is addressed to a brother and sister, and dated January 27, 1839: "I believe that I enjoyed religion before I joined church; but I have to lament the little progress that I have made in the divine life. I felt a conviction that I must be more holy. I wanted every root of bitterness rooted out of my breast, that I might enjoy a full salvation. Three weeks ago I fell on my knees and implored God to give me the victory. I felt an answer to my prayers. I bless God for sanctification. O, praise the Lord for what he has done for me! I feel a spirit of rejoicing all the time. I am happy every moment. Dear Jesus, let these beauties be my soul's eternal food."

From that time she did not lose for a day the evidence of the blessing. So full was her heart of the love of God that daily she would shout the praise of God in her home or in the public congregation.

In October, 1873, Father Hurlbut was stricken with paralysis. The morning before his affliction, Mother Hurlbut received a wonderful blessing, to prepare her, as she believed, for the trouble that soon came upon her. She said: "On that morning, while I was leading in prayer, I felt my Savior strangely near; my heart was full of calm, sweet love. My faith became wonderfully strong. I did not pray as we usually pray. I just talked with Jesus. I told him my wants as I would tell them to man. My heart was filled with peace and love. I then went to the neighbors and told them what the Lord had done for my soul. After returning, still feeling the Lord so precious and so near, and believing that they surely felt the divine presence, I said to my husband: Mr. Hurlbut, don't you feel the power of the Lord resting upon you? To which he replied, in his characteristic manner: I feel the power of weakness resting upon me. Then, for the first, I saw that he was paralyzed and helpless. I understood then that the Lord had given me a special blessing, and such a blessed assurance of his love and protection, to prepare me for this great affliction."

This is but one of many incidents in her history to show that her life was one of great faith.

Her last sickness was not one of pain and suffering, but a giving away of physical powers. So stealthily came the messenger, death, that her friends did not regard her as dangerously ill until a few minutes before her death. Yet she had made all her arrangements for death, and expressed a perfect willingness and readiness to die. She passed away as one lying down to sleep.

March 20, 1875, Mother Hurlbut, in the seventy-eighth year of her age, fell asleep in Jesus, having for many years wholly followed the Lord.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON PARSONAGES.

It is clear that the peculiarities of the Methodist itinerancy make it highly important that every pastoral charge own a parsonage, which should be provided, at least, with all necessary heavy furniture. It is also clear that the importance of this is underestimated in many parts of this conference. The minutes of 1874 report thirty-eight pastoral charges in which there are no parsonages. We are sure that many of these charges are entirely able to provide suitable homes for their pastors, and we are confident that if proper measures are adopted a considerable number of parsonages can be purchased or erected during the coming conference year.

We therefore recommend:

1. That the presiding elders be requested to call the special attention of the quarterly conferences of charges where there are no parsonages to the importance of providing parsonages and parsonage furniture, and to deliver addresses upon the subject, according to their judgment, before the congregations; and wherever practicable, to inaugurate measures to secure the erection or purchase of parsonages at the earliest possible time.

2. That the pastors appointed to charges having parsonages which need repairs do all in their power to have the needed improvements made.

STATE OF THE CHURCH.

Your Committee upon the State of the Church would respectfully report that the only matters referred to it were—

1. A resolution in opposition to increasing the number of presiding elders' districts in this conference.
2. The question of conference boundaries.

Upon the first item we report that in our judgment no action is necessary.

Upon the second item we report that we have made careful inquiry upon the subject, and find such diversity of opinion concerning the boundaries of the conference, and the best method of settling the question, that in our judgment the subject should be allowed to go to the General Conference without recommendation from us, except that we express ourselves decidedly against any diminution of our territory.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON TOBACCO.

WHEREAS, The use of tobacco is an expensive, filthy and hurtful practice; and as no Preacher can effectually lead others to correct habits in life who does not himself practice the same; therefore,

Resolved. That we, the members of the South-Eastern Indiana Conference, will use our influence in all reasonable ways against the use of tobacco; and that we are opposed to the admission as a member of this body any man who uses the same.

REPORT ON THE "OBSERVANCE OF THE SABBATH."

Your Committee on the Observance of the Sabbath would report as follows:

We regard the practical recognition of the Holy Sabbath as essential to the perpetuity of the civil and religious institutions of our country. No Christian Sabbath means no Christian religion. Every effort, therefore, whether by foreign or American-born citizens to repeal the Sabbath laws of the land, or to convert this Divine Institution into a common holiday, touches a tender chord in the heart of every intelligent Christian and true patriot, as every such effort is an evident thrust at the vitals of all that "exalteth a nation," and that inspires in our hearts a hope of blessed immortality.

We, therefore, ministers of the Gospel, to whom God has committed the defense and care of Divine things, feel it to be our imperative duty, both by scrupulous example and from the pulpit, to faithfully and uncompromisingly defend and maintain this sacred institution against all its insidious and avowed enemies.
